

Public School Students To Stage Parade For School Building Program

Elementary and high school students from the entire Bay St. Louis school system, including Webb and Taylor Schools, the St. Ignace Elementary School, and Bay Central High School, will be the main attraction for a parade through the streets of Bay St. Louis prior to Tuesday's special school bond election. Banners will indicate grades one through twelve, and a continuous blowing of the fire whistle will indicate that the parade is underway and students are marching. Parents and other patrons of the school are urged to attend the parade and give their support. According to Superintendent of City Schools Joe D. McCulloch, the purpose of the parade is to show people in this school district the need for an immediate building program. After the recent tragic school fire in Chicago which claimed the lives of 27 children, Superintendent McCulloch emphasized that the proposed new school building will be fire proof with exits at each end. The new building will eliminate all fire hazards. Voters are urged to support the building program and to take an active stand at the polls in Tuesday's election.

Tuesday's special school bond election will mean an expansion of the school facilities to both white and colored schools. The school board has decided to expand the school facilities of a two-story building at the Waveland Center. The present crowded conditions in the public schools make it necessary to expand at this time and voters are urged to go to the polls on Tuesday to support this issue. In order to vote one must have poll taxes for the last two years, but it is not necessary to show them at the polls. Since this is a special election, a voter may qualify by registering and getting his poll taxes. Voters from Waveland will cast their ballots at the Town Hall in Waveland. Residents of Waveland, especially those who have children in the school, are known for years past for a lunchroom on the school grounds. In inclement weather the children are exposed to rain and cold and in addition to exposure, small children are faced with traffic hazards.

IT HAS BEEN CALLED TO OUR ATTENTION THAT PLANS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A PAROCHIAL SCHOOL HAVE BEEN DEVELOPED AND COMPLETION IS SCHEDULED FOR 1960. WE ARE COGNIZANT OF THE FACT THAT OUR LOCAL PRIVATE SCHOOLS ARE UNABLE TO PROVIDE FOR MORE STUDENTS AT THE PRESENT TIME. THE CONSTRUCTION OF A PAROCHIAL SCHOOL WOULD CERTAINLY BE AN ASSET TO THE COMMUNITY AND WOULD, TO SOME EXTENT, RELIEVE THE OVERCROWDED CONDITION OF OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS. HOWEVER, AT THE PRESENT RATE OF INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT IN OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS, THE EXPANSION PROGRAM WHICH WE ARE RECOMMENDING WILL STILL BE NECESSARY TO ELIMINATE THE PRESENT OVERCROWDED CONDITION, AND ASSURE US OF ADEQUATE PUBLIC SCHOOL FACILITIES TO TAKE CARE OF THE ANTICIPATED INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT FOR THE NEXT 10 TO 15 YEARS.

A vote for better schools means a vote for better citizens

WE, THE MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS HEARTILY ENDORSE THE SCHOOL EXPANSION PROGRAM

AND URGE EVERY VOTER OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS TO VOTE FOR THE SCHOOL EXPANSION PROGRAM ON DECEMBER 16.

Christmas Joy and Blessings

"And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger." In the hush of a Holy Night, He was born, bringing to earth a joyous promise of Peace and Good Will to all mankind. And now, as the bells ring out the glad tidings, age-old yet ever new, another Christmas dawns. Hope is strengthened, courage fortified, faith renewed. Hearts and spirits are bright with the shining wonder of the Day.

To all our friends, our greetings and good wishes. May you hear the wonder of Christmas in each dearly cherished carol... see its magic in each gaily-decked tree... feel its infinite joy deeply in your heart. And, as you hark to the words of the story, may the blessings of His message surround you and those you hold dear, at Christmas and through all the days to come.

SUCH LOVELY FLAMES

By John Scott Douglas

FRED DORSON plugged in the string of lights and then stood back to admire the blue and red and green candle globes, on the Christmas tree. Ellen left the table she was setting to study the effect.

"Nice little tree, Fred. Seem a shame, though, not to be sharing it with someone. This was a year—"

And then she stopped, and his face, still pretty in middle age, grew pink. Fred knew she'd be about to say that he was always to have the Robbins to Christmas dinner. Every year since the children had married and he thought they had either entertained their neighbors or had been the

ed. How about some golf Saturday?"

When they reached home, Fred looked at the blackened wall speculatively. "No real damage done, Ellen. A coat of paint will fix it."

"How do you suppose the tree ever caught fire?" Ellen asked.

Fred grinned mischievously. "A match and a bunch of tins of sardines have helped."

The 1959 Christmas Seal will decorate your Christmas gifts and show that you are helping to fight against tuberculosis.

But now, by mutual consent the quarrel with the Robbins' was not mentioned. It was characteristic of Ellen not to blame Fred. And that took forbearance because the Robbins' had been the dearest friend.

Ellen sighed. "Goodness, turkey must be almost ready!" Fred thought of their quarrel which was started because of a cocker puppy which wouldn't come. Tom, with his usual consideration for his neighbors, started to build a fence to the dog out of the Deppson's den. Fred thought the fence a foot within his own party line, and jokingly said:

Tom had laughed. "Who's party for it?"

"I'll pay half," Fred had said. "If you'll buy the strip, you're in."

The joke, within a matter of days, had taken on an edge.

SOD SEEDING

This is an ideal time to do some sod seeding in sod areas. Sodded areas have now stopped growing and planted now with small grain, they should make an ideal spring grazing area.

Use oats or wheat on sodded areas and ryegrass or clover areas. Be sure to put down fertilizer and enough of it when you plant.

Then manage the sod seeded areas and do not overgraze.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—The National Academy of Sciences today announced that it had elected as its 1931-32 foreign honorary member, Dr. H. G. Wells, of England.

Dr. Wells, who is 65 years of age, is a well-known English writer and philosopher. He is the author of "The War of the Worlds" and "The Outline of History." He is also a member of the Royal Society of London.

The National Academy of Sciences is a private organization which was founded in 1863. It is one of the oldest and most distinguished scientific organizations in the world. It is composed of members who are elected by the Academy itself. The members are chosen for their contributions to science and for their leadership in their respective fields.

Dr. Wells' election to the Academy is a great honor and a recognition of his contributions to science and to the world. It is a testament to his leadership and to his vision of the future of humanity.

The Academy will hold a meeting in Washington, D. C., in the near future to discuss Dr. Wells' election and to elect its 1932-33 foreign honorary member.

SOIL NOT DEPLETED BY TEN YEARS OF HIGH CORN YIELD

State College, Miss.—Close spacing and high fertility practices which have boosted per-acre corn yields in Mississippi about 50% in recent years, apparently do not exploit nor deplete soil resources. Research agronomists continued to get high yields year after year in a study of the long-time effects of these practices at the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station.

Howard V. Jordan, soil scientist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has recently reported the experiment, which included 10 years of high fertilization and an 11th year when no fertilizer was applied as a test of the cumulative effect of the previous treatment. He reported the following results:

During the first ten years the 120-pound nitrogen, 20000 plant treatment proved very effective. Compared with the least intensive treatment, erosion when the experiment began, there was an increase of 67 bushels of corn per acre, and the grain was almost two percent richer in crude protein. Crop residues were increased by more than two tons per acre and one less cultivation were required each year.

Intensive cropping may aggravate deficiencies of micro-nutrients on some soils, although it did not do so in this experiment. Continued use of acid-forming nitrogen fertilizers made it necessary to add lime periodically. Except for increased acidity, the soil of the most intensively cropped plots was not depleted. On the contrary, a small, though definite, improvement in bulk density of soil in the plow layer was measured. In the year after fertilization was discontinued cumulative benefits were responsible for a 16-bushel increase in yield.

These results indicate that corn can be grown almost continuously by these high-fertility practices on non-errosive soils with reasonably stable structure.

Mr. Jordan's complete report is published in the December issue of "Mississippi Farm Research" available on request from the Experiment Station at State College.

500th Traffic Victim Dies From Two-Car Collision, December 10

Mississippi's 500th traffic victim of 1958 is dead.

The 500th victim, 21-year-old Robert Hearn Kimbrough of Morgan City, died Wednesday, December 10, in Memphis Hospital of injuries received in a two-car collision near Greenwood, November 28.

The young Mississippi State University student and two fellow students were occupants of a late model station wagon which swerved into the path of another vehicle, a mile east of Greenwood about 1:30 a. m. November 28.

All three, home for the Thanksgiving holidays, are now dead, and young Kimbrough, who hung on tenaciously to life for 13 days, earned the dubious distinction of being 1958's 500th fatality.

The wreck which killed the three Mississippi State University students is typical, according to the Highway Patrol, of the tragic accidents now occurring on Mississippi highways: a multiple fatality wreck caused by a careless mistake and subsequent traffic violation.

The best which investigating officers could determine from the wreck the right wheels of the station wagon in which young Kimbrough was riding as a passenger dropped from the paved surface onto the shoulder. The vehicle, swerved out of control into the path of an oncoming car. The station wagon, occupied by the three students, was struck broadside.

There were no survivors in the station wagon.

Public Safety Commissioner Tom Scarbrough has repeatedly warned in press and radio appeals to motorists that the one-two Sunday punch which is causing Mississippi's mounting highway toll is a single act of carelessness, followed up by death traffic violations.

The Greenwood accident was apparently such an accident.

"Driving an automobile is a serious business," state Commissioner Scarbrough. "And the only way to drive safely is to drive alertly and properly."

The Highway Patrol had previously predicted that Mississippi's 1958 traffic toll will likely slightly exceed last year's death toll.

Last year, 526 were killed in motor vehicle accidents.

Already this year the 500th victim has become a statistic.

STATE HARVEST NEARLY MADE CRORE DOLLARS

Mississippi's 1958 harvest, just about complete, has produced an estimated 1,000,000 bushels of cotton and 1,000,000 bushels of soybeans. The state's total crop value is estimated at $1,000,000,000.

And it is our Christmas wish for you that every holiday joy will come your way, to be followed by a glorious New Year.

the special mission of "The Dutch Ship," James Allen Fennell and Captain Charles Moore, Dutch Consul General, met the group. Their report was that the group associated with the Dutch officers was the bulging benevolent side of the new effort.

It was in New York too, they thought that Santa acquired his name. When ships and his habit of arriving on Christmas instead of on the Dutch St. Nicholas eve (December 5). And then in his New York persona, he finally found his way to all parts of the United States, England and even Australia and India.

Indeed, as the New Yorker will tell you, New York as New Amsterdam in the beginning, was dedicated to Santa Claus, or St. Nicholas, by its Dutch settlers. For Santa Claus = Sinterklaas, as it is sometimes written in Holland. It is of course only the misinterpreted pet name which Dutch children gave in the good old St. Nicholas. And it is said that the ship which brought the first Dutch children to Manhattan island bore his face as figured.

From the first, too, his special day of December 5, was at odds with Christmas, New Year, Easter and Whitmaside, as one of the five chief holidays of the the state's forests. "The forests are the backbone of the state," he said. "They are the source of our timber, and they are the source of our water. They are the source of our recreation, and they are the source of our health. They are the source of our life." He said that the state's forests are in a state of crisis, and that they need to be protected. He said that the state's forests are being destroyed by logging, and that they are being destroyed by fire. He said that the state's forests are being destroyed by disease, and that they are being destroyed by insects. He said that the state's forests are being destroyed by all of these things, and that they need to be protected. The last session of the state legislature announced three amendments of the BAWLW of 1944 to clarify the law and spell out in plain, definite language the conditions under which the state's privately-owned bus lines would be eligible for BAWLW assistance.

Marked made his announcement by saying he would become especially busy privately-financed industries are not aware of the clarifications of the BAWLW of 1944 in this regard and do not know the benefits of the law have been spelled out in their favor, provided they can otherwise qualify.

He invited attorneys, officials and other representatives of interested privately-financed industries to get in touch with the Board Staff, 1504 State Office Building, for details on the act clarifying legislation.

A Very Merry Christmas to All

The first season for us to wish one and all a seasonable and merry Christmas.

Then, year after year, as regularly as St. Nicholas ever came around in New Amsterdam, in Brooklyn (Brooklyn), in Fort Orange (Albany) and many other hamlets above the icy Hudson, the children in every good Dutch family gathered in expectant circles for weeks beforehand they had learned their lessons and helped with the milking and churning in an agony of good behavior. And now, already they were singing their song to Santa Claus:

In the midst of the song would come a knocking at the door and in would stride Santa Claus himself—not round and jolly, but solemn and majestic in trailing robes. In one hand he might have a basket of presents, and in the other a stick, for the way was sure to be a hard one—an awful warning to a naughty boy.

Santa questioned each child in turn about his behavior in the year just past and gave him a pat on the head, as the record indicated. Then, bidding them all look for presents in the morning, the good saint, suddenly flung a handful of lilliput in the room and in the ensuing scramble, vanished into the night.

Then the children set out their sabots or later the great blue rare stockings made for the purpose.

However, he did not—and the tale varies in many lands—Santa Claus got about, for in the morning were the children's stockings with waffles and sausages and other good Dutch fare, over the blue stockings, bulging with apples, balls, dolls and toys.

AWAY IN A MANGER

The Widdow's Hollands, the set in story, presented the strange portions—connected with plagues of pests animals and stormy shepherds—so dear to the heart of modern Christianity.

chairman of the Temporary Emergency Finding Committee on the development of Natural Resources, said that "Mississippi forest lands are producing only about one-third of its potential, and there are approximately 8.6 million acres of land, unimproved grazing and sparsely forested land which are producing little or nothing."

He added that "the two physical resources with the greatest undeveloped potentials are water and trees."

Henry C. Maddox, director of the Mississippi A&L Board, said that "wooding industries are a vital part of the industrial picture in Mississippi and illustrated this point by saying, 'Since 1939, forest products manufacture has increased in Mississippi 40% compared to 20% in the South and 358% in the United States. Pulp paper manufacture has increased 4620% in Mississippi compared to 1,041% in the South and 398% in the United States.'"

"For the past two years," he said, "furniture and allied wood manufacturers located and expanded in Mississippi at an average of one a month."

Others on the program were Phil Wheeler, Southern Forest Experiment Station, New Orleans; J. M. W. Gill McCoomick, Texas Forester, Forest & Wood Utilization Service, Atlanta, Georgia; and M. B. Swayne, Mississippi Economic Council and Dr. David been determined through study by the National Safety Council that "Mississippians," further said Underwood, "can make this the safest Christmas season in many years simply by observing the basic rules of safe driving." Dangerous bad weather, speed, alcohol and pedestrian errors are given as the causes of most of the accidental deaths on Christmas Eve. "Certainly by being more aware of these hazards many Mississippians can avoid them," he said.

R. Grant, pastor, Broadmoor Baptist Church, Jackson.

The conference was held to receive suggestions from attending landowners as to how safe forest management practices could be carried out on their holdings. Some of the suggestions from the floor dealt with speeding up reimbursement procedure by ASC, making available, certain loans on timber and boosting fire safety help to the private landowners throughout the State.

Among those attending the conference from Hancock County were Norton Hiss, Hugh Sanford and Marion Parker.

Sponsoring agencies, the Mississippi Forestry Commission and the S. Forest Service, were well pleased at the attendance and interest shown at the conference. Mr. Left with the feeling that the results of the Conference may be "a new system" is the not distant future.
